GC Man Killed in Highway Accident

C. B. Hayes, 63, Dies In Rt. 3 Collision; 31 Others Suffer Injuries

A Granite City man suffered fatal injuries and 31 other persons were hurt in a three-car accident which occurred on Quad-City area streets and highways during the weekend.

Clifford B. Hayes, 63, of 1700 Ferguson avenue, was killed and his four-year-old grandson, Darren Doy, 1615 Spring avenue, was critically injured in a two-car crash at 3:20 p.m. Saturday on Route Three north of West Pontoon road and seven-tenths of a mile south of the Chain of Rocks road.

Mr. Hayes, an A. O. Smith Corp. machine operator, had taken his grandson for a drive and was going west on St. Thomas lane, entering Route Three at a point where there is a divided four-lane pavement.

The left side of the Hayes auto was struck by the Stoddard-bound car of Carroll R. Hartline, 20 of 2714 Roosevelt avenue, state police said.

Mr. Hayes received severe head and internal injuries and multiple leg fractures. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The Doy boy suffered a skull fracture, a right arm fracture and a forehead laceration. He was transferred from St. Elizabeth Hospital to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis, and is unconscious. His mother is Mrs. Barbara Galbraith of the Spring avenue address, a daughter of Mr. Hayes.

Hartline received facial cuts and was admitted to the hospital here.

An inquest will be conducted by Deputy Coroner Al Cesse. A date has not yet been set.

Mr. Hayes, born in Stoddard county, Mo., moved to Granite City in 1954.

Chouteau Village Vote Considered

Petitions may be filed soon to obtain a special election on incorporating the Mitchell area as the village of Chouteau, it was announced after a meeting attended by more than 50 persons yesterday at the parish hall. The area is part of Chouteau township.

Boundaries remain to be agreed upon. Residents of the area west of the railroad crossing indicated a decision to proceed, and appointed to represent them Steve Novosel, Paul Seebold, Art Boyle and Elmer Wenzel.

The eastern area, described as slightly more undeveloped, named George Warnecke, Morris Miles, Fred Seegar and Stanley Lucas Jr.

The incorporation plan was attributed to a desire to avoid annexation by Granite City, which was proposed by Alderman Walter Norn at the Nov. 6 council meeting.

Other city officials have stressed that Granite City has no power to annex the Mitchell area. Incorporation as a village is unnecessary unless village services are desired, the officials said.

"We don't have the authority to 'gobble up' anybody," it was noted.

A factor persuading some of the Mitchell families to incorporate is the belief that the city may seek to annex new school land. The city has acquired Grigsby junior high school and Namekoi township subsequently filed suit to fight the annexation.

Last week the school board bought a 65-acre site at Maryville and Namekoi roads from Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wein, represented by the Kaegi agency.

Also voiced was fear that Granite City may reach out toward the Mitchell area by annexing property reserved for industrial development.

Delinquent Tax List Published Today

The annual publication of delinquent taxes in Granite City, Namekoi and Venice townships appears on pages 26 through 32 of today's issue.

County treasurer and ex-officio tax collector John Maers will make application Dec. 4 in the circuit court at Edwardsville for judgment against the property involved and public sale will be held at 9 a.m. Dec. 11 at his office in the court.

Election On Schools Probable By March

Growth in Enrollment Requires Additional Buildings—Supt. Davis

A special election is a strong possibility between now and March, Granite City School Supt. E. J. Davis said Thursday night in estimating that the present 14,283 enrollment will rise to 20,029 by the 1977-78 school year.

Annual growth rate has slowed from 6% to slightly under 4%, but even the lower rate results in substantial enrollment gains each year, necessitating construction of additional buildings, the superintendent told an audience of several hundred at the start of a Parkway grade school open house and Parent-Teacher Association meeting.

While no formal action has been taken by the board of education, current thinking primarily involves the elementary and junior high school levels, Supt. Davis indicated.

"We estimate that Granite City high school will have 2990 pupils in the tenth through twelfth grades when we begin the 1970-71 year. This would be an increase of 241 in a building now being used to its full capacity."

Second High School Costly
"We need a second high school, but to build a school that would be equal in curriculum offerings to what we now have might cost between $7.5 million and $8.5 million. We have a bonding capacity of 5% of our assessed valuation, or at the present time slightly over $4 million," Supt. Davis noted.

"The anticipated increase of 3746 students in the next ten years consists of 3724 elementary school pupils, 1204 in the junior highs and 810 at the senior high school level."

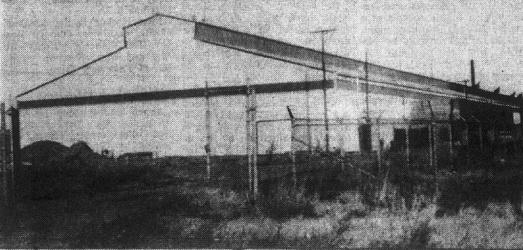

"If you figure this in academic classrooms with an average of 30 pupils, it means an additional 122 rooms, not counting related facilities. And new state legislation that expands special education indicates a possible need for 70 new special classrooms."

"We are looking seriously at the possibility of using Coolidge junior high as part of the high school. It is an attractive possibility for the near future both from educational and practical standpoints, but could offer serious drawbacks projected over a ten-year span."

Possible Alternatives
"We have considered building only the academic area of a new high school and adding the vocational later. This is not ideal because you must either transport students back and forth or track them for academic classes in one building and use the other building for vocational and general curriculum. Where this has been tried, one has been regarded as an elite school and the other as a school for the less elite, and there is no good way to see here."

"Coolidge has over 1600 pupils, almost double what is considered to be an ideal maximum."

$192,904 Low Bid For Sewer Work in GC

Council Still Facing Problem of Selling $150,000 Bond Issue

A bid much lower than estimates for construction of sanitary sewers in scattered areas of Granite City was opened Thursday night at the city hall.

The low bid of $192,904 was submitted by General Contracting Co., Granite City, and currently is being reviewed by Elmer Schmitz, a representative of the Chicago regional office of the federal Housing and Urban Development agency.

Mayor Partney, who expressed pleasure that the bid was well under the construction estimates that ranged from $220,000 to $254,000, said the contract award probably will be made Nov. 30.

A problem facing the city is sale of the $150,000 revenue bond issue that will be used to finance the construction along with funds from the $1,500,000 grant of federal tax funds from HUD.

The council met in special session Wednesday night to open bids for sale of the bond issue, but none were opened. A few minutes after the 8 p.m. bid deadline, the council did receive a proposal from Midwest Securities of St. Louis, but the bid was rejected. New bids for the bonds are to be sought as quickly as possible.

Council members stressed they would not award the construction contract until assured of a sale of the bond issue. Tight money and high interest rates are causing the problem. The maximum interest rate allowed for municipal bonds is 6%.

Action on seeking bids a second time probably will be taken at tonight's council session. Other construction bids opened Thursday night were $211,200 by G. H. Sternberg Co., Granite City; $234,130 by A. H. Seebold Co., Granite City, and $240,000 by the city.

Steel Processing Firm To Open at Old ACF Site

Plans for operation of a steel processing center in Fox Industrial Park at Madison by Metal Goods Corp., St. Louis, were announced Friday. Operations are expected to begin in early December.

The plant is devoted exclusively to tailoring steel to customers' specific requirements and will employ 40 persons. Its operations will include the slitting, shearing and roller leveling of cold rolled, hot rolled and galvanized sheet steel.

The new operation at Madison is being reviewed by the corporation's 18th plant and second in the St. Louis industrial area, according to Ralph A. Morris II of Morris Realty Co., a member of the Board of Illinois-Metrol East and Industrial Development, committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, who announced the opening of the new plant.

Robert E. Groe, president of Metal Goods Corp., said the new operation is a reflection of the company's need for expanded quarters to handle the growing demand for its steel processing services.

He said the Madison location in the former American Car and Foundry plant is ideally suited because of its proximity to the Granite City Steel Co. one of his firm's major steel sources. The move will help effect economies and improve service for customers, he noted.

Operation of the new plant will be under direction of Robert Downs, regional manager for Metal Goods Corp., assisted by Lyle Smith, who recently was named sales manager. Smith will be responsible for working with the company's district managers and salesmen who are serving Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Arkansas, Nebraska and Iowa markets.

The plant is a mill type structure covering 67,000 square feet. It is constructed of paneled, corrugated steel ribbing and has fiber glass monitors. The equipment is to include 48-inch and 24-inch slitters, a 12-foot sheet shitter, a 48-inch roller flattener, two 51-inch shears and one 12-foot and two 10-foot shears, complemented by automatic stacking equipment. There also is to be a deburring machine for cut-length strips.

Railroad, Truck Facilities
Material will be handled by one 15-ton and three 10-ton cranes which run the full 420 foot length of the building. Infrared heating units provide a humidity control system for reducing oxidation. The plant has a 1200-foot railroad spur serviced by the Terminal Railroad Association, and is located on the route of many major truck lines.

Metal Goods Corp., one of the nation's largest metal service centers also is expanding its services in other market areas, with new plants planned in Philadelphia, Boston and Denver. It represents many of the Co. customers with a bid of $108,100.

Virgil H. Dulgert, architect for the building work, attended the meeting and checked the bids against specifications. The contract agreement will call for completion of the work within 180 days, with exceptions for extenuating circumstances such as severely bad weather.

The project provides for three new classrooms and a separate wing adjacent to the school's industrial arts area. Upon its completion, all Venice elementary pupils will be housed at the one school.

Gathering Told Board Acted to Avoid Invasion

A crowd of about 40 white parents, accompanied by some youngsters of high school age, walked to the Madison police station about 11 p.m. Friday, gathered outside the station entrance and called out that "we want to see the school board."

Police clerks notified Mayor Stephen Maeras and School Board Attorney John Gitchoff, both of whom appeared at police headquarters a short time later.

Gitchoff and Maeras both outlined the procedure that had been followed during the day in an effort to end the school boycott and thus remove prospects of violence during the week.

They frequently were interrupted by comments from white parents that they would take their children out of school classes if the Negroes returned.

Maeras explained that police officials had received reliable information that the area would be invaded by outsiders during the weekend and that the board's action was taken to avert that probability.

Object to 'Giving In'
While parents have objected strenuously to "giving in" to the reinstatement of the suspended Negro athletes at the high school on grounds that white students have been suspended for infractions of the rules and the penalties allegedly were made to stick.

Meanwhile, Illinois state police, the Madison county sheriff's office and police of Granite City and Venice were alerted to the possibility of demonstrations as a result of the Negro boycott.

The full membership of the Madison fire department was kept on duty at the fire hall throughout Friday night and early Saturday morning.

The white parents eventually drifted away from the police station where it became apparent they were not going to meet with school board members.

A spokesman for the group said Thursday that he did not yet know if the white parents will continue protesting the school board's action, stating the athletes, or what form such action would take if it did develop.

4 Area Youths Drafted Friday

Four Quad-Cities were drafted Friday morning at the county clerk's office in Edwardsville. The quota for this month was eight men, one of whom had been transferred.

Those drafted were McKinley Smith Jr. and Phillip S. Matthews, both of Madison; Robert Lee Noll of Mitchell and William Wayne Owens of Granite City. Owens was a volunteer.

The group was served coffee and rolls by Mrs. Mildred Felling, representing the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce in Red Cross. Next month, two local youths are to be drafted Dec. 8 and 16 are to report for pre-draft physical examinations on the same date.

Hundreds Of White Pupils Out Of School

'Illnesses' Follow End of Boycott by Negroes in Madison

A demand that all seven members of the Madison board of education resign en masse will be made as the next development in the racial strife at Madison high school, the Press-Record was told today. The board's reversal Friday of its stand taken Thursday night on reinstatement of athletes was cited.

Petitions calling for the resignations were reported in preparation after an estimated 90% of white students at Madison high school remained away from classes beginning this morning.

Most of the approximately 1300 Negro students who remained out of classes in an effective boycott in week meant while returned to classes at the high school and at the all-Negro grade schools, Dunbar and Blair, and other schools.

A large number of white students also stayed home today from classes at Harris and Louis Bauer grade schools and Madison junior high school. Parents said the walkout of white students was "because they are angry." They denied it was a boycott.

No Pickets on Hand
There were no pickets by white parents or students at any of the predominantly white schools at opening time today.

One organizer of the move of white parents to secure resignation of Madison high school board members who declined use of his name "for the time being," said the protest would be put down in detail as soon as the group can communicate in Chicago with Wilbur Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools.

"We want to get Mr. Trimpe's feeling in this matter and show him how many people are actually behind this move," the spokesman said.

Trimpe and other school officials of both Madison and Chicago were attending the annual convention of the Illinois Association of School Boards. He is not due to return until Wednesday.

The demand for resignations of board members was based on allegations that the board "handled this situation in a very poor manner," one member of the group asserted. He said the white students who are sick today "will remain out of school until the board resigns and we see this move and see it through."

Last week's boycott by Negro students as the result of program management was cited as a high school athletic program ended Friday night when the board announced it had met in special session and voted to reinstate 17 Negro athletes suspended for boycotting practices prior to the end of the football season. The players were seeking reinstatement.

He was treated. He was beaten with fists. Thomas at first declined to discuss the incident with officers, but later said he had been with several men earlier in the evening and had the money on him then.

Thief Taps Till; Man Beaten and Robbed

While one man kept the store manager occupied, another walked into Save-Mor Market, 1508 Third street, Madison, Thursday afternoon and snatched approximately $200 from the cash register. Both men fled the store and were picked up at Second street and Madison avenue by a third man in an automobile, police reported.

Albert Love, manager of the market, told officers that the first man came into the store about 2:20 p.m. and ordered a package of cigars, giving Love a $1 bill. After Love opened the cash register to make change, the man ordered a package of pipe tobacco. Love said his back was turned to the cash register as the second man walked in, went behind the check-out counter and took the money from the register.

The men walked up Third street toward Madison avenue, but began running when a store employee followed them. Witnesses later told officers the men got into a car with a third man at Second street and Madison avenue. The car drove toward Save-Mor Market street in Venice.

Madison School Board's Actions Thursday Night

The Madison board of education reinstated three freshman and sophomore Negro athletes to Madison high school teams in an effort to ease racial tension in the schools at a heated session Thursday night, but the school boycott by Negroes was to continue, an NAACP lawyer declared. The boycott did continue Friday.

Suspensions were upheld on 14 junior and senior athletes, but the board agreed to review policies on school organizations and their rules and regulations which in the future will require the approval and sanction of the board.

Raymond Howard, St. Louis attorney acting as spokesman for the NAACP, charged that the board had "done absolutely nothing" toward settling the situation and he claimed that the board members and white parents were prejudiced against Negro students.

"The problem is simply one of equality for Negro students," he said.

Black Power
At one point of his remarks, he told the board that "black power advocates were wanting to come here from St. Louis and East St. Louis and burn the town down. We have been doing everything we can to keep them out. The action of this board might spark Madison into a riot, either now or later on."

"The entire city of Madison will be harmed, and this board will be responsible. You have the unique opportunity of preventing a riot before it starts."

He said the whole problem could have been resolved by reinstatement of all the students and establishment of a parents committee, with board representation, to work out the problems.

Continue Boycott
He added that the boycott will continue for a whole year, if necessary, and would serve to call the attention of the injustices to the public of the nation. "The boycott has dramatized the Negro situation in the community."

John Gitchoff, school attorney, declared the boycott is illegal.

Violation of the school attendance law is punishable by a fine of not more than $50 or imprisonment of not more than 25 days in the county jail or both.

Gitchoff said that those who induce children to stay out of school are violating the law regardless of race, color, religion or anything else.

Howard was accused of using intimidation and threats against the board, and his remarks drew the anger of Associate Circuit Judge Austin Lewis.

Judge Lewis told Howard that he was advocating unlawful means to attain a purpose

Safety Council Urges 'Defensive' Driving

The Thanksgiving holiday long has been a joyous occasion for most American families, but the mounting traffic toll on the nation's highways makes it a tragedy for hundreds every year, the Quad-City Safety Council pointed out today.

The council urged motorists to drive defensively while on the highways during the long holiday weekend, and offered the following advice to holiday drivers:

- "Schedule your trip so that you will have plenty of time and will have no need to rush."
- "Obey all traffic laws and be especially defensive in your driving."
- "Compensate in your driving for any weather conditions. If weather conditions become hazardous, cancel your trip."
- "Use your seat belts."
- "If you will be driving, do not drink and drive. During holidays it's especially deadly."

MORE ABOUT Hundreds of

ing more than one Negro among the six cheerleaders.

The board action contrasted with the decision it had announced at a regular meeting Thursday night, when it voted to reinstate only three of the athletes and proposed to work out other NAACP demands in committee sessions.

An estimated 60 white parents met yesterday afternoon and decided to keep their children out of school in protest on the board action.

400 Absent at MHS
More than 400 white students remained away from the high school this morning. This is 90% of the white student population of 450. The high school has a total enrollment of 750, including about 300 Negro students.

Attendance at three other schools also was reported hard hit, although not as seriously as at the Madison school.

At the Madison junior high school, which has a total enrollment of 288, 171 students were reported absent, or 44% of the total enrollment of 388 students. Louis Baer has 15 to 20 Negro students.

A total of 250 pupils or 43% of the enrollment was reported out of classes at Harris school, which has a total of 576 students. Approximately 25 Negro students attend Harris.

At Louis Baer school, 171 students were reported absent, or 44% of the total enrollment of 388 students. Louis Baer has 15 to 20 Negro students.

Expect Further Demands
A parent told the Press-Record that his group feels board capitulation to the threat of violence will merely lead to new demands and new threats.

Meanwhile, with the white group studying plans to consult with Trimpe and later with State Supt. Ray Page, the local NAACP branch is still planning to file complaints with the state alleging that segregation exists in the district.

While not a part of the school board's formal statement Friday, an NAACP gathering that was held to end the week-long boycott that evening was told that three Negro cheerleaders would be added in the spring, with four Negroes added to a color guard that presently consists of seven white students.

The special school board meeting Friday was prompted by increasing reports that violence would erupt during the weekend unless some type of settlement was reached.

Mayor Stephan Maerz said he suggested that before any action was taken the school board first arrange a meeting with white parents so that the board's intent could be fully explained. However, school officials felt time was too short to arrange such a session and that immediate action was necessary, the mayor said.

Urgency of the situation developed when Capt. Emil Toffant, in charge of District 11 of the Illinois State Highway Police, called school officials and said he would like to meet with them.

Capt. Toffant met in the Madison school board office with School Board Attorney John Gitchoff and board members early in the afternoon. Mayor Maerz was called into the meeting at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Capt. Toffant outlined the danger of the situation as he saw it Friday afternoon. He described the injury and damage resulting from recent East St. Louis rioting and urged the board to take any action it could to stave off a similar occurrence in Madison.

Meet with Mrs. Weston
At that point, it was learned, Gitchoff called Mrs. Thomas Weston, president of the Madison branch of the NAACP and leader of the boycott movement, to arrange a personal meeting with her. Capt. Toffant and Gitchoff went to Mrs. Weston's home, where Toffant again outlined the hair-trigger atmosphere and urged Mrs. Weston to do everything she could to avert violence.

Police, city officials, and school board members had received repeated warnings that over the weekend, touched off by an expected invasion of outside Negro groups from East St. Louis and St. Louis.

"The reports that we kept getting were that it all would happen Friday night," the mayor said.

Mrs. Weston agreed that reinstatement of the 17 athletes might be acceptable to the Negro parents if the school board would agree also to work out other points of contention in later committee meetings with NAACP representatives.

Reverse Previous Stand
Gitchoff and Toffant returned to the school board office, where the school board convened in a special session and drafted a revision of its action taken in Thursday night's regular board meeting.

Meanwhile, a mass meeting of Negro parents had been called for Friday night in the Southern Baptist Church in North Venice.

Gitchoff also met during the afternoon with Raymond Howard, St. Louis attorney and a Missouri state representative, who had been representing the NAACP in its effort to solve the Madison racial strife.

The new board action was put in writing at Mrs. Weston's request and the proposal to reinstate the 17 athletes who had been suspended from the high school football team and therefore made ineligible for participation in other sports programs was presented at the mass meeting Friday night.

Plan Was Opposed
The proposal drew heated opposition at the beginning of the meeting. Many Negro parents insisted that they "hold out" in the boycott attempt to secure all 11 points of demand.

Howard, however, recommended the school board's proposal be accepted, as did Mrs. Weston. The group of about 300 parents attending the meeting eventually agreed to accept the plan.

As a result, Mrs. Weston told the Press-Record Saturday, the boycott "has been called off and the children will be back in school Monday morning."

"I am glad this thing has been resolved in this way," Mrs. Weston said, admitting that "tempers were growing short and none of us could forgive ourselves if something happened to cause anyone to be hurt."

She said the NAACP will continue to press for all the points listed by the parents and the NAACP in the current drive for more Negro representation in all school activities, as well as increased integration of the Madison school system.

A statement issued by the board following a special meeting Friday, signed by all board members, followed.

"At a special meeting of the Madison board of education, the decision of the board regarding the suspension of athletes has been reconsidered and the board by an unanimous vote reversed its position and now states—

"That the athletes heretofore suspended, are hereby reinstated without penalty upon their return to classes Monday, Nov. 20, 1967.

"The boycott of the schools is at an end and all students are to be in school Monday, Nov. 20, 1967, without penalty."

"The reversal of the board decision within a twenty-four hour period deserves an explanation."

"First: The purpose of schools is to teach and render an education. All of the students of the district must be considered. When 1300 of approximately 2800 students are not in school, the prime purpose of education is defeated.

"Schools cannot continue under such conditions. To fall 1300 students for not attending school is not the true purpose of the educational system."

"To file charges against 500 to 600 parents not allowing the children to boycott would not stop it, and there are not enough jails to hold them. Parents do not belong in jail."

"Second: In the interest of public safety, not only the students, faculty, but all citizens, and all business places—conscience and courage—now dictate a frank appraisal of the situation."

"Frankly, the board's first decision, may have pacified some parents, but it did not end the boycott; it did not return the students to class; it did not subdue rumors of violence; it did not subdue the threat of violence, riot damage and personal injury as exhibited in other cities."

"Today, the board had the benefit of the testimony of a man, who has seen violence, its after effects and scars—his business is violence. That man is Captain Emil Toffant, commander of this State Police District."

"He along with the local police would have the great responsibility of curtailing violence. If it could not have been controlled, then a request for the National Guard may have had to have been made.

"How much school?"

"How much education?"

"With a ring of armed men around our schools?"

"Would this really happen? Who really knows, other than those who have seen it and cities that have lived it?"

"The board feels not!"

"The board realizes this decision will not be agreeable to all. But its previous action did not bring a solution. This, then, had to be done!"

"The remainder of the board's previous statements remains in full force and effect."

State Police Enforcing Revised Traffic Laws

Illinois State Police are enforcing revised traffic laws concerning abandonment of vehicles, lighting of vehicles including bicycles, use of emergency flashing lights and the use of lights and signals on vehicles and school buses.

Police Supt. William H. Morris pointed out that under the new law a driver who has 10% by weight of alcohol in his blood is now presumed to be under the influence of intoxicating liquor. This was lowered from 15% by legislative amendments this year.

The new law also makes it illegal to carry, possess or have alcoholic liquor in or upon or about a motor vehicle except in the original package and with the seal unbroken.

Morris said confusion resulted from the equipping of many vehicles with rotating or flashing red lights. Slow moving farm vehicles, rural mail vehicles, wreckers, utility company trucks and others that have been using red flashing or rotating lights now must be equipped with amber lights.

Red flashers are restricted to police and fire vehicles and ambulances.

The new laws also provide that first time conviction for drag racing is subject to imprisonment of not less than five days and not more than 30 days, or by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500, or both.

Man Shot, One Cut in Venice Tavern Fight

One man was shot and wounded in the chest and another was stabbed in the abdomen in a fight in the Robin's Nest tavern, 113 Slough road, Venice, at 4:50 p.m. Friday.

Charles Holmes, 48, of 1123 Logan street, Venice, was shot in the left side of the chest and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where the bullet from a 38 caliber revolver was removed. Holmes was released from the hospital after treatment. He also was wounded on the right hand.

Venice police alleged that Holmes was shot by Monroe Redds, 38, St. Louis, who left the tavern and drove away in his car immediately after the shooting. An hour later St. Louis police notified Venice authorities that Redds was in Homer G. Phillips Hospital suffering a knife wound in the abdomen.

A warrant charging Redds with aggravated battery was issued by Venice police and sent to St. Louis authorities to hold Redds.

Witnesses told police that Holmes and Redds renewed an old argument when they met in the tavern Friday afternoon. Several blows were struck before Redds allegedly pulled a gun from inside his shirt. Witnesses said, however, that they never saw Holmes use a knife. Holmes told police at the hospital that he did not know if he had cut Redds, but that he threw the knife in weeds behind the tavern.

Park Youth Basketball Instruction to Begin

The Granite City park district's annual youth basketball program will get under way Saturday morning in three schools, it was announced today by Park Supt. Harold Brown.

Two sessions for teaching fundamentals of basketball will be held each Saturday morning in the school gymnasiums until after the Christmas holidays, when league play will begin. The Saturday training sessions will be held at Nameoki school for pupils living in the area of St. Elizabeth and Nameoki schools and part of Frohardt school; at Prather school for pupils of Washington, Logan and Logan annex; and at Coolidge junior high for pupils of Lake, part of Frohardt, Parkview, St. Margaret Mary, Webster, Sacred Heart, Marshall, Wilson, McKinley and Emerson schools.

At all three the sessions will be held from 9 to 10:30 a.m. for pupils of the fifth and sixth grades and from 10:30 a.m. to noon for pupils of the third and fourth grades.

Will Learn Fundamentals Brown said the instruction will cover fundamentals of basketball, such as rules, shooting, passing and team play, for four weeks. After the holidays, participating players will be divided into teams for league play beginning the first of the year.

The training is free of charge, except that participating pupils who do not have insurance coverage will be required to pay a $1 fee for that purpose. If the players are engaged in any other park activity in which they already have paid the insurance fees, they will not have to pay it again.

The sessions are open without charge to pupils living within the boundaries of Granite City. Those living outside the city limits but wishing to participate may do so by paying a $3 non-resident fee.

For Practice or Play In addition, Brown announced, half of the large gymnasiums at Prather and Coolidge will be open Saturdays to pupils and adults who wish to practice or play basketball games.

The Prather school gym will be open for this purpose from 9 a.m. until noon and the Coolidge gym from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Brown pointed out that pupils living in the school areas designated for each of the three gymnasiums need not attend training at that school if they live closer to one of the others, or if they prefer to attend one of the other training sessions.

Venice to Open New Season Tuesday

The Venice high school Red Devil basketball team will open its season at 8 p.m. tomorrow as it plays host to Columbia.

In the last meeting of the two clubs, the Red Devils were the winners 62-48 as John Gardner got 16 points and led Venice's come-from-behind rally. Gardner, 6'2" forward, finished the year averaging 14 points a game and returns this season to head five returning lettermen.

Others are Tom McIntosh, 6' guard, Jim Miller, 6'2" guard, Mike Leatherman, 6'2" forward, and Russell Turner, 6'1" center.

Second in Conference Last year, Venice finished second in the Madison-Clinton-Macoupin counties conference, recording an 11-3 league mark and 20-5 season record.

Columbia finished fourth in the Cahokia Conference with 7-5 and 12-5 overall.

Venice Coach Bill Ohlendorf of the Red Devils for the first game plans to use the five lettermen as starters. Fessor Gray, a 5'10" guard, also will see action.

The Red Devils will be playing 11 home games this season. They also have two tournaments scheduled. The Red Devils scrimmaged Friday evening and Coach Ohlendorf commented that "the boys are ready for the season to begin. We don't have a tall team but we do have a team that is sound on the fundamentals, and that is important. 'We have played each other so long that we have worked out our simple mistakes, but now we need some outside competition to see if all of our mistakes have been ironed out."

Red Cross 'Talking Letter' Yule Project Starts Today

Starting today and continuing each weekday through mid-December, relatives of Quad-City servicemen and women serving overseas, or hospitalized in the U. S., are invited to record Christmas messages at the Tri-City Red Cross office, 1411 Twenty-first street.

The free, pre-Christmas project is part of the Red Cross organization's annual program of special services, designed to help cheer members of the Armed Forces who are away from their loved ones during the holiday season.

The recording may be made at the local Red Cross office between 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. any weekday, Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, chapter executive said today. An appointment is not required, however, those wishing to set a specific time for a family group may call the Red Cross at GL 2-7194 for information.

Seebold Trucking Sued For $75,000 on Injury

A suit for $75,000 was filed last week in Madison county circuit court against the A. H. Seebold Truck Service & Excavating Co., Granite City, for Robert Hammock, charging violation of the Structural Works Act.

The complaint alleges that last Nov. 8, Hammock was employed by the ABC Erection Co., which was performing iron fabrication and installation work for the Seebold firm on a storage tank construction contract with Shell Oil Co. at Mt. Vernon.

As he was assisting a Seebold crane operator in some steel, the crane became entangled with a cable attached to the steel, causing the steel to tip over onto him, the suit relates. He alleges serious and permanent injuries.

The sender is asked only to mail the recording, which usually requires an eight-cent air-mail stamp. Military dependents at the Granite City Army Depot with relatives abroad, exchange students residing in the Quad-Cities, or new citizens in the community also are invited to participate in the Red Cross service, the chapter official said.

Eligible to make the 15-minute "Voices from Home" records are any member of the serviceman's family or his fiancée, Mrs. Overbeck said. The Tri-City Chapter will provide the recording facilities, an unbreakable record and heavy wrapping material in which to mail the disc.

and that he was violating his sworn duties as a lawyer to uphold the law.

Howard and a few associates left the session before Judge Lewis completed his reply.

The judge was furious at accusations that white parents were prejudiced. He noted that he had been active in community activities, including such youth programs as the Khoury league, for years and had never discriminated between white and colored persons.

Obtained Schools

When he was president of the Venice board of education, Howard said he was instrumental in obtaining schools for Negro students, when they had none before.

Judge Lewis, who has two sons attending Madison high school and who attended the meeting as a spectator, said the board of education should not be subjected to threats and intimidations.

He cited the compulsory attendance laws of the state, and said that by fostering a boycott, Howard was not "serving the members of the bar or his profession which has been working for the rights of the people for centuries."

Fingers Shaking
Howard made attempts to interrupt Judge Lewis in a finger-shaking episode that approached physical violence before the St. Louis lawyer left.

Earlier Gitchoff, who served as spokesman for the board, calmly criticized Howard for condemning the board's decision without knowing what the decision was.

Howard was late in appearing at the meeting, arriving at the end of the last of three statements a day.

Gitchoff requested Howard to take copies of the statements, read them, and confer with him the next day, but without any response.

100 Law Suits
When Howard threatened to call in the federal government and the justice department and file a hundred lawsuits against the board, Gitchoff remarked:

"You can file all the lawsuits you want to. There is a proper procedure for legal remedy. If the court should overrule the decisions, the board will abide by it."

Howard, who said he was not being intimidated, asked the board to reinstate all of the Negro athletes immediately. "If not, you will be faced with this problem all through the year," he said.

Gitchoff again said that Howard had not read the board's three resolutions, and told him that the boycott is illegal. Howard disclaimed that, asking "what law?"

He compared the Madison situation with those which occurred in Mississippi and Alabama, and said that southern Negro athletes immediately.

School Code
Incorporated in one of the board's resolutions was a section of the school code of Illinois which sets legal procedures connected with formal complaints of segregation.

Gitchoff also informed Howard that the decision of the board was not unanimous. Board members Harold Fisk and Chester McManaway favored reinstating all of the Negro athletes in an attempt to wipe the slate clean and make a fresh start in resolving any legitimate grievances.

After the session, Madison law reporters that the racial situation could have been resolved easily before NAACP introduced its 11 demands. He said the board was informed that each of the demands would have required individual decisions in favor of the NAACP, and when these were met, new demands would be introduced.

Lasting Effects
Some doubts as to the lasting effect of the boycott were shown in remarks of a Negro parent made after the meeting. He said that at times of highly emotional situations, some persons have a tendency to forget their responsibilities and the benefits of the society which they have been enjoying.

One of the board's statements responded to each of the 11-point demands and cited other sections of the school code referring to transportation to and from school-sponsored activities, election of board members and appointment of school administrators. It denied that segregation exists in the schools.

The resolutions adopted by the board follow:

Regarding School Boycott
Compulsory school attendance is the law of the state of Illinois. The board affirmatively states that the existing boycott is illegal. It cannot deny that that it is in fact in existence, but it cannot, and will not, subject itself to the pressure of an illegal act.

The board appeals to all students and their parents to end the boycott and return the students to the classroom. Their absence from school cannot only deter and jeopardize their educational opportunities, but their economic and employment opportunities as well.

The boycott has dramatized the feelings of the Negro community. The board is aware of this. Discussions and solutions can be carried on just as readily with the students returning to class.

An orderly, legal and therefore, peaceful procedure should be followed in resolving all grievances.

This board stands ready to do.

Regarding 11-Point Demand
The board is an organization peculiar to formation by the parents. It is without the power and duty of the board. The board has stated publicly and re-states its position—that it will lend its support and encouragement to such an organization. It suggests that the 16-member joint high school parents committee would form a nucleus for such an organization.

Inclusion of Negro students to the school code:
This group is a purely private and voluntary group of students, who without school sanction have participated in activities with the high school band. They purchase their own uniforms, and select their own replacements and successors. The board was unaware of this being the situation. The board cannot condone activities or organization for their private initiative. However, the board cannot condone activities or organization which do not have the sanction of the board.

Therefore, if this group is to continue it must receive board sanction and approval and if expansion will occur, increasing same to 11 members and under the supervision of the band director; that rules and regulations be set forth and submitted by the band director to the board, then an executive approval for approval by the school administration and the board regarding the qualifications, selection and existing of the organization. If this is not done, then the color guard will be dropped for lack of sanction.

Extra Transportation
Transportation of athletes after games to points near their homes:

The law of the State of Illinois regarding this subject is to be found in Article 29, Sec. 28-21 of the Illinois school code and is as follows:

"Transportation to and from school sponsored activities."

The school board of any school district that provides transportation for pupils to and from the school and attend other sections of the school code referring to transportation to and from school-sponsored activities, election of board members and appointment of school administrators. The board cannot condone activities or organization for their private initiative. However, the board cannot condone activities or organization which do not have the sanction of the board.

Therefore, if this group is to continue it must receive board sanction and approval and if expansion will occur, increasing same to 11 members and under the supervision of the band director; that rules and regulations be set forth and submitted by the band director to the board, then an executive approval for approval by the school administration and the board regarding the qualifications, selection and existing of the organization. Extra Transportation
Transportation of athletes after games to points near their homes:

The law of the State of Illinois regarding this subject is to be found in Article 29, Sec. 28-21 of the Illinois school code and is as follows:

"Transportation to and from school sponsored activities."

The school board of any school district that provides transportation for pupils to and from the school and attend other sections of the school code referring to transportation to and from school-sponsored activities, election of board members and appointment of school administrators. It denied that segregation exists in the schools.

The resolutions adopted by the board follow:

Regarding School Boycott
Compulsory school attendance is the law of the state of Illinois. The board affirmatively states that the existing boycott is illegal. It cannot deny that that it is in fact in existence, but it cannot, and will not, subject itself to the pressure of an illegal act.

The board appeals to all students and their parents to end the boycott and return the students to the classroom. Their absence from school cannot only deter and jeopardize their educational opportunities, but their economic and employment opportunities as well.

The boycott has dramatized the feelings of the Negro community. The board is aware of this. Discussions and solutions can be carried on just as readily

Miss Mary Anne Baumann Is Bride of Wm. Jenkins

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM D. WEINBERGER at their wedding Nov. 11 in the First Baptist Church, Madison. They are residing at 2912 Oregon avenue. The bride, the former Miss Diane Stone, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Stone, 710 Madison avenue, Madison. The groom's mother is Mrs. Louise Weinberger, 744 Pebbleshire lane, Kirkwood, Mo.

Urn holding white gladiolus and pink pom poms, together with lighted candles in silver standards entwined with smilax and white satin ribbon, provided the setting at St. Peter United Church of Christ Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Mary Anne Baumann, elder daughter of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Robert Baumann, and Mrs. Baumann, and William Marshall Jenkins, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, 2158 State street.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the bride's father, assisted by the Rev. Robert Hedeman, pastor of Hope United Church of Christ in Belleville.

Walter Brummer presided at the organ and accompanied the vocalist, Keith Curtis, as he sang "The Wedding Prayer" (Dunlap) and the Lord's Prayer by Malotte. A recital by the organist preceded the service. "Trumpet Tune and Peal" (Purcell) was used as the processional. Mary Jean Baumann and Ann Marie Brucker served as acolytes.

A gown of candlelight peau de sole was worn by the bride. Overlaid with motifs of beaded Alencon lace, it was styled with a removable train. The Empire bodice featured an oval neckline and short lace jabot sleeves. A veil of silk illusion cascaded from a lace pillbox topped with a silk rose and the bridal bouquet was an off-side arrangement of gardenias and variegated ivy.

Two attendants, Miss Ruth Baumann, the bride's sister, as maid of honor, and Mrs. James O'Master, a sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaid, were in identical floor-length gowns of Beauty karate cloth with scoop necklines, fitted bodices and modified sheath skirts. Short capes of Venise lace were worn over the sleeves and draped over the back to the Empire waists topped with fabric bows. Headpieces and tiny bouffant veils matched the gowns and both carried cascade bouquets of pom poms, roses and carnations in shades of pink.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Baumann wore a pastel blue dress, while the bridegroom's mother chose a pink brocade dress and jacket. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

James O'Master was best man, and Thomas E. Jenkins, a brother of the bridegroom, served as groomsmen. The ushers were William Brucker and James Summers.

A reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall directly after the service. Miss Eleanor Wirtz of Sterling, Ill., presided over the guest book.

The former Miss Baumann, a graduate of the Granite City high school and Illinois State University, is a teacher at the Mitchell school. Mr. Jenkins is a student at Southern Illinois University, S.W. campus.

MORE ABOUT Election On

num size for a junior high. With the addition of Grigsby junior high next fall, this will be lowered to slightly over 1200.

"Prather junior high is in relatively good condition in enrollment and age of the building."

Central, Other Schools Aging

Central junior high is an old school with all the problems of an old building. It is housing more pupils than I would like to have there. With the opening of Grigsby school, Central enrollment will drop to under 600 students. But we must consider how much longer we can use this facility," the superintendent commented.

Grigsby was planned to house 720 students and we will open it with about 700. This doesn't leave much room for growth."

"If we use Coolidge as part of the senior high school, it is a certainty that another junior high will need to be built, possibly at the 65-acre site we purchased this week."

"Middle School" Plan

"We are studying the possibilities of the 'middle school.' Under this plan you re-group your grades."

"Instead of the present kindergarten-sixth grade, seventh-ninth grades and tenth-twelfth grades, possible groupings would be K-4, 5-8 and 9-12 or K-5, 6-9 and 10-12. Present sixth grade rooms could then be used to handle some of the expanded elementary enrollment."

"This not only offers some practical solutions to our building needs, but recent studies and programs of this type have shown educational benefits which, of course, must be our prime goal."

"The elementary level is ever increasing. The 'war babies' are beginning to have children, and the boom goes on."

Trend to Smaller Families

"The trend in family planning today has swung back to the small families, whereas in the late 1940s and early 1950s the trend was toward larger families. Our kindergarten rate follows the general trend of the live birthrate in Granite City; the birthrate is declining and so is our kindergarten rate."

"The birthrate, however, is only one part of our projection. This area is growing. Even though the population in Granite City is down, as shown by the recent census, the suburbs are continuing to grow."

"And if the industrial growth that is being sought should suddenly mushroom in this area, we can throw all our figures out the window and go back to the drawing board to develop new figures. The Bartholomew plan in 1966 predicted a 13,000 enrollment by 1980, and we have exceeded that by 1200 pupils 13 years early."

New Grade School Site

We need at present an elementary school in the Mitchell-Marville-Nameoki areas, the west side of the tracks. If a school now existed where we bought an 11-acre site this year, we could assign 600 pupils there and still not eliminate much of the elementary school pressure."

"Mitchell is large. With a school west of the tracks, we could reduce the Mitchell grade school enrollment of 750 by 400 pupils and allow it to take some of the Highway 111 area from Stallings school, which in turn could help Lake school."

"Maryville grade school is in an expanding residential area and we must give it some growing room. Almost 60 pupils now attending Maryville live west of the tracks and could attend a new school in that area."

Classrooms Being Rented

"At Nameoki we are renting facilities to handle the overflow. Nameoki has 200 pupils living west of the tracks, and certainly it would be a help if these students had a school near them to attend."

"As with Central, we need to consider our older elementary buildings — Washington, Emerson, McKinley and Webster. How long do we plan to continue their use?"

"If urban renewal takes place and the trend is reversed from moving out of the downtown area to moving back into the area, will these schools need to be enlarged or replaced?"

"The Niedringhaus area is growing. Parkview school is situated in an expanding residential section. Stallings has been bearing the brunt of the new construction along and east of Highway 111."

"Only at McKinley, Emerson and Marshall do we find relatively stable populations."

"This year the state enacted a law requiring each school district to offer special education classes not only for the educable and trainable mentally handicapped, partially blind and deaf and speech and multiply handicapped but also the emotionally disturbed and culturally maladjusted."

"These problems are being studied from every angle — we can think of, not only at the downtown school office and among the buildings. We have asked the PTAs to conduct a census of every family, and have consulted the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

"The SWMAPC projection agrees with our total although listing more high school and fewer elementary pupils than our estimates."

Supt. Davis told the PTA unit that "perhaps through re-districting of certain schools we can alleviate the most pressing problems for a short period of time."

"From the census we hope to gain more data on future growth patterns and either confirm or allow us to re-evaluate our present estimates."

"We are considering different grade groupings. We are exploring the idea of the 12-month school. And we are attempting to determine the number of new facilities we would need under a building program."

"Undoubtedly we will have to come to you, the people, and ask for additional financial help."

"I hope that if and when we do you will know it is not a spur-of-the-moment request but one that has been studied and analyzed. I hope that you in return will give your support."

"A decision must be made in the very near future. New pupils are reporting each day, and we cannot wait."

Operating Costs Rising

"I have only discussed our growth problem with you—what it could mean to you and to the district."

"In all the areas of education, the cost is going up; as the cost rises, your costs as taxpayers will also have to go up."

"You have been most generous in your support of education. You have asked your schools to do a good job of educating your children, and you have given us the resources with which to operate. I hope your generosity will not end at this point."

PAARKVIEW PTA PLANS FILM MATINEE PROJECT

Francis Herman, Parkview PTA president, contacted a business session at the November meeting Thursday and announced that the fund-raising project for this year will be a matinee at the Washington theatre Dec. 16 at 11 a.m. A feature film and eight cartoons will be shown and $100 worth of prizes from downtown merchants, including a bicycle as first prize, will be awarded at the show.

Bob Kirgan is chairman of the ways and means committee and those assisting him with distribution of tickets are Mrs. Martha Love, Mrs. Janet Kuck, Mrs. Jerry Singleton and Bob Hildebrand. Any parent wishing to obtain tickets may do so from any of the committee; no children will be selling tickets.

School Supt. B. J. Davis addressed the PTA on future construction needs.

The PTA board will meet Dec. 5 and a Christmas program will be held Dec. 14, with no business meeting planned.

It was noted that safety patrols are now on duty and that Helping Hand posters have been distributed to parents participating in the block protection program.

The membership chairman, Mrs. Jo An Macios, said there are now 150 members, only 50 short of the goal for this year. Mrs. Helen Lindsey, hospital-ity chairman, submitted a report.

Hildebrand requested that all pre-school census cards be turned in to the school office this week.

Following the meeting, an open house was held, with several hundred touring the classrooms.

MRS. ALVIS S. GILBERT JR., whose wedding was Friday evening at the Word of Life Tabernacle. She is the former Miss Carolyn Dowdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dowdy, 2311 Independence drive.

Carolyn Dowdy, Alvis Gilbert Exchange Vows

Miss Carolyn Ann Dowdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dowdy, 2311 Independence drive, and Specialist-Alvis S. Gilbert Jr., whose parents reside in Danville, Va., exchanged wedding vows Friday evening at the Word of Life Tabernacle.

Rev. James Legate officiated at the 7:30 candlelight ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and pom poms.

Wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Barbara Legate at the organ. She also accompanied the soloist, Charles "Slay Collins. Selections included "Truly" and "Chapel in the Moonlight."

The bride was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage.

She chose a Princess-style gown of white peau de soie, accented with a wide panel of embroidered Alencon lace at the front. The floor-length skirt was fashioned with a full, swallowtail chapel train, and long tapered sleeves of lace enhanced the bodice.

A bouquet of silk illusion was held in place by a fabric rose, and the bridal bouquet was a cascade of white carnations interspersed with blue puffs and white ribbons and centered with a detachable carnation corsage.

The mother of honor was Mrs. Charlene Valley, a cousin of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Misses Peggy Turner, Nancy Woods, Sandy Williams and Kay Nickells.

The attendants wore identical full-length gowns in shades of aqua, mint-green, peach and gold. The lace dresses were designed with demure scoop necklines and three-quarter-length sleeves, with satin bows in colors to match their gowns detailing the Empire waistline.

The flower girl was Lorie Stacy, whose long frock matched the bride's gown. She wore a flowered headpiece and carried a basket overflowing with white pom poms. Frank Valley, the bride's cousin, served as ringbearer.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his father, Alvis S. Gilbert Jr. of Danville, Va. The groomsmen were William and Harold Rhoads and James Valley, all cousins of the bride, and Delmar Louis. Specialist-four Neal Femmer was usher and the candlelighters were Tommy Moore and Louis Cottrell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dowdy selected a powder blue ensemble with navy blue accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Approximately 100 guests attended a reception, held at the Hungarian Hall immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Betty Rhoads presided at the guest register and special guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Nell Turner, and Mrs. Neal Femmer of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The former Miss Dowdy attended Granite City high school and Joseph's School of Hair Fashion. Her husband is a graduate of the Danville, Va., high school, is stationed at the Granite City Army Depot.

The couple will reside at 412 Madison avenue, Madison.

Joyce Allen and Cletus McDaniel Are Married

Bouquets of white gladioli interspersed with greenery adorned the altar of Grace Baptist Church for the wedding Saturday of Miss Joyce Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Smith, 1247 Iowa street, Madison, and Cletus McDaniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph McDaniel, resided at 2569 Madison avenue.

Rev. Clifford Mosier heard the couple exchange the wedding vows at two o'clock.

The former Miss Allen selected a white organza and lace gown, fashioned in an Empire silhouette. Lace sleeves were fitted into the bodice and a white bow and jeweled beads, accenting the front of the full-skirted gown, were repeated on the cathedral train.

A bouquet of silk illusion was secured by a matching white beaded bow and she carried a cascade arrangement of white Fuji mums centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Dan Shipp was the honor attendant, while Miss Sharon Chinn and Miss Theresa McDaniel, the groom's sister, were bridesmaids.

They were attired alike in full-length turquoise designs designed with Empire waistlines and short trains. Matching bows secured veiling encircling their heads and their flowers were white baby mums arranged in a cascade.

Mr. McDaniel chose as his best man William Wilkinson, while Michael Newell and Gerald Lamkin served as groomsmen. The corps of ushers was headed by Robert Campbell and Junior Bufford.

Melody Mosier, flower girl, appeared in a short white dress and carried a nosegay of white baby mums. Ringbearer was Christopher Smith, the bride's brother.

Mrs. Smith selected a sleeveless aqua dress with matching lace coat and black accessories, while the groom's mother chose a pink brocade coat ensemble with matching pink accessories.

Smart Birdwatchers Invite Birds, IAS Says

In winter, according to the Illinois Audubon Society, smart birdwatchers invite the birds to come to them. They will respond if proper hospitality is extended. Simple continuously supplied food tables with well chosen tidbits of bird diet will insure a surprising number and variety of feathered guests in all but the most congested urban areas.

The worse the weather, the heavier the snow, the more birds will appear to gladden the dreariest winter days. "Think of birds on Thanksgiving Day, especially if the ground is already snow-covered, while we in our warm homes enjoy the holiday feast—and for the next four cold months," says Raymond Mostek, president of Illinois Audubon Society.

"Also remember," he adds, "that handouts are not charity, for we owe much to our avian population in return for the destruction of prairie and marsh and wood land, especially near our exploding cities, that formerly provided millions of acres of food sources and natural shelter needed for birds' survival."

It takes a little know-how to be successful hosts to winter birds, Mostek admits, such as what kinds of food birds like and need, how to correctly set their dining tables, and how to provide shelter from storms, shelter being as essential as food. IAS is ready to supply much needed information. It has prepared a booklet, "Food and Shelter for Birds" which will be sent for ten cents in coins (price five cents by mail) to anyone who writes to:

"Food and Shelter," Illinois Audubon Society, Field Museum of Natural History, Roosevelt Road and Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, Ill. 60605.

Leo L. Wise, Resident 70 Years, Dies at 84

Leo L. Wise, 84, of 2810 East 24th street, a resident of Granite City for 70 years and former operator of a garage here, died at 2:32 a.m. Friday in St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, where he had been a patient four days. He had been ill eight months.

Mr. Wise was born in Peru, Ill., and was a member of St. John United Church of Christ. He worked as a foreman at the Army Depot from 1942 until 1950 when he retired.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Theresa Wise; two daughters, Mrs. Paul (Thelma) Hofmeier of East Alton, and Mrs. Chris (Georgia) Kamalas, Hammond, Ind.; and one son, Maynard Wise of St. Louis county. A son and a daughter preceded him in death. He also leaves 18 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Elks to Hold Autumn Dance Saturday Night

Granite City Elks Lodge 1063 will hold its second dance of the fall season for members and their guests on Saturday night. The theme will be "Turkey Hop" in honor of Thanksgiving.

A cocktail hour with hors d'oeuvres will begin at 8:30 p.m. and dancing will be held from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. to the music of the Stan Nelson orchestra.

Attendance prizes will be awarded to two couples. Reservations may be made at the lodge's Antler room.

Pvt. Wm. Wolfe Trains At Ft. Sill, Okla.

Army Pvt. William E. Wolfe, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wolfe, 1815 Maple street, has completed an eight-week field artillery basic course at Ft. Sill, Okla.

During the course, he was trained in the operation and maintenance of the 105mm and the 155mm towed howitzers. He also received specialized training in firing such weapons as the M-49 machine gun, the M-79 grenade launcher, and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Utility Pole Burns

Venice firemen were called at 1:20 a.m. Friday to Merced and Calhoun streets to extinguish a burning telephone pole and fence. The pole and fence apparently caught fire from a burning trash pile, firemen said. They were at the scene half an hour. There was no damage.

Exemptions from Wage Garnishment

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

A new Illinois law provides that a $50 weekly paycheck is exempt from garnishment by a court order requiring an employer to make deductions from an employee's paychecks for the benefit of his creditors.

And, if the employee is the head of a family who contributes substantially to its support, his paycheck of up to $50 per week is exempt from garnishment deductions, under the law.

The old minimum exemption from a deduction order was $45 and this applied to all persons, without special provision for the head of a family.

The new law retains the old maximum exemption of 8% of the gross wage.

Thus, the exempt portion of a wage-earner's paycheck is either $50 or 8%, depending upon his family status, or 8% of his gross weekly wages, up to $50, which ever is the lesser.

The new minimums are now in effect. An employer may rely on a written statement by an employee as to his family responsibilities, and incur no liability if the employee was in fact entitled only to the $50, rather than 8%, minimum exemption.

The law provides that the amount of the non-exempt portion of the paycheck is subject to collection under a deduction order "and no payroll deductions of any kind may be taken from the non-exempt amount."

The exemptions apply to the paychecks coming under the minimum exemptions, a creditor must seek other lawful means of collection.

Records Necessary for Tax Return

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q—Just started my first full time job. What should I keep in the way of tax records?

A—Your records should contain the information required to file a complete accurate return. You will need to show what your earnings were for the year as well as what deductible expenses you had if you itemize.

Your employer will provide you with a statement at the end of the year showing your earnings and the amount withheld for federal income tax.

If you also have income from stocks or bonds, a savings account or other sources, be sure to keep a record of the amounts received.

You should also keep records of your deductible expenses. This would include the doctor's bills you pay, the contributions you make to charity and the other deductible expenses you have, such as interest on loans and state and local sales and income taxes.

It is a good practice to keep such items as canceled checks and receipts to help substantiate items on your return.

Most people starting their first job find it to their advantage to take the standard deduction rather than itemizing. Unless you have kept records of your deductible expenses you will not be in a position to itemize if that happens if you should ever decide to result in a lower tax for you.

Q—Why do people who go bankrupt still have to pay their back federal income taxes?

A—The law says that the debts of a legally declared bankrupt are dissolved but that federal taxes remain a legally collectible debt.

Q—I've been asked to send in

Time for All to Dig Deeper And Put the United Fund Over the Top

"Each contribution of any amount looks mighty big from now on," Chairman M. B. Milonaki has commented regarding the United Fund campaign, which stood at 93.6% or nearly $25,000 below the $284,000 goal at the final report meeting last week.

Some campaigns have been able to digest the 100% mark on the basis of gifts passed in arriving at the U.F. goal. There will be few such pledges from previous solicitations, but an analysis indicates these will leave the drive total about $20,000 short.

The prospect is saddening because the agencies serving most of their support from the United Fund have been caught in a squeeze resulting from years of inflation and population growth. To maintain the same kind of services needed and desired here, they need not only all of the funds budgeted but even more than the goal.

A drive failure, also has an impact on subsequent years, when there may be a greater tendency to adopt inadequate budgets due to lack of confidence in raising sufficient funds.

The $364,000 goal could be surpassed with ease if all families, groups, employees and firms gave to the extent that they benefit from the health, recreation, character building, youth, family and citizenship programs. Quad-City's 20 agencies and agencies should have full support from the "home front."

Further information is contained in IRS Document No. 5108, "Installment and Deferred Payment Sales," which may be obtained free by sending a postcard to your IRS District Office.

Q—I'm thinking of opening my own business. Do you have any publication that describes what federal taxes a small businessman has to pay?

A—Yes, it is called "Tax Guide for Small Business," Publication No. 334. Send 50 cents to your district office to obtain a copy.

Q—Our daughter is thinking about getting married in December. If she loses the exemption we've been claiming for her?

A—You will if she files a joint return with her husband's. If her husband files a separate return you may claim an exemption for her if she does not take a deduction for her dependent. In that case, you, not her husband, get the exemption.

Nothing Third-Class About U. S. Servicemen

Although specialist-fourth refers to the fourth Army enlisted grade, for pay and rank purposes, the unusual appellation often is referred to incorrectly as "specialist fourth-class."

Navy and Air Force have enlisted men's ratings utilizing second-class and third-class.

Because America has first-rate men in its armed forces, serving in the Vietnam war and elsewhere, one would expect complimentary rank designations cannot be derogatory.

The services need "Indians" as well as "chiefs," and some still in training will perfect their skills, but each position is one of honor and sacrifice and is deserving of high respect.

County Air Pollution 60% Better, State Now Taking Further Steps

(Excerpts from an air pollution study by members of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities and the Industrial Waste Control Council.)

Information from the U. S. Public Health Service shows that to the total air pollution problem in the Quad-City area, power plants 14%, space heating and incineration 10% and industry 16%.

While industrial processes are not the major source of air pollution, industry has taken positive steps in this community to reduce its air pollution contribution to industry.

The Waste Control Council is an organization of metropolitan area companies interested in furthering programs of air and water quality. The Manufacturers Association since the early 1960s has maintained an active air and water quality committee.

1963 State, Federal Laws
On Dec. 17, 1963, Congress passed the Federal Clean Air Act for prevention and control of air pollution by research, investigation, training and grants.

Although the law gave the federal government the ability to go into interstate disputes, where no action was being taken to abate existing air pollution, the law also made it clear that the responsibility for abatement rests with the state government.

Four months earlier, on Aug. 19, 1963, the General Assembly had passed the Illinois Air Pollution Control Act.

In 1964 the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board set forth with two principal objectives: to develop interstate compacts and to eliminate open burning at refuse disposal dumps. An Illinois-Indiana compact was passed by the legislatures of both states and submitted to Congress for ratification.

The "Good" Old Days?

FACULTY GUIDELINES issued by a New York City school principal in 1872:

1—Men teachers may take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they are married.

2—After ten hours in school, teachers should spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.

3—Women teachers who marry or engage in unseemly conduct will be dismissed.

4—Every teacher should lay aside from each pay day a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.

5—Any teacher who smokes, uses liquor in any form, frequents pool or public halls, or gets shaved in a barber shop will give good reason to suspect his worth, his intentions, integrity, and honesty.

6—Teachers each day will fill lamps, clean chimneys, and trim wicks.

7—Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's session.

8—The teacher who performs his labors faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of 25¢ per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.

Percy One of Six 'Elected' President — By the Pollsters

Polls have two built-in inaccuracies—they utilize only small-samplings of the population and they are conducted on the basis of the way their questions are worded. But, even though sentiment constantly shifts, it may be much different by next November, it is undeniable that a "victory" in polls of voters boosts the presidential stock of real or possible candidates.

Using this yardstick, there are now six red-hot Republican prospects, including an Illinoisan, U. S. Senator Charles Percy, because all six potentially could defeat the incumbent president in 1968. In the order of their current standing in the polls, they are: Gov. Rockefeller, Gov. Romney, former Vice-President Nixon, Gov. Reagan, Sen. Percy and Mayor Lindsay, one of the major polls disclosed this month.

The issue is far from decided, of course, because even the polls are in an unpredictable pattern. And a U. S. president has at his disposal many ways of dominating the news at crucial times. He also can help shape economic conditions to secure increased public support in presidential election years.

But at least for the time being the poll results have given each of the prospects a level of support for the nomination. There is nothing that helps build campaign momentum faster than the belief that it has a genuine chance of success.

Sewer Construction Program in Granite City Off to Good Start

Receipt of a $192,904 bid on construction of sanitary sewers in the North Granite City area marks the beginning of a major sewer construction program authorized by voters June 10 off to a good start.

A total of $225,000 ($125,000 in revenue bonds and $100,000 from Granite City's $114 million federal grant) originally was allocated, and subsequent estimates indicated that even more funds might be required.

Residents will be hoping for similar competition when the city bids later for the stormwater lines included in the $3,400,000 program.

County Air Pollution 60% Better, State Now Taking Further Steps

In Collinsville to oversee Madison and St. Clair counties. This is the first time that the state has taken such regional office in the state.

Inspections, Letters of Intent
The board's engineers have generally visited and thoroughly inspected every major manufacturing installation in Madison county. Each industry has submitted a "letter of intent" indicating that state rules will be complied with. They have also submitted inventories of fuel and emission inventory data.

The state regulations further require that all persons and companies with an air pollution problem within the next year submit to the state a specific reduction program—scheduling installation of gas cleaning devices and/or replacement or alteration of specific facilities to reduce contaminants to the levels required by the state.

The firms now are performing engineering testing to determine the extent of their problems, that devices may be designed and processes altered.

Research on several stubborn air pollution problems is being done by national industry trade associations.

By expensive modernization and process conversion projects, many industries already have designed, developed and installed remarkably advanced air pollution control equipment.

The state last month reported a 66% decrease in industrial air pollution emissions in the Illinois portion of this metropolitan area since 1963.

Rapid, Substantial Progress

The Illinois board meanwhile, aided by technical advisors including leading professors from the University of Illinois, has developed rules on control of smoke and particulate matter and established a permit system for new industrial plants.

After five hearings, one in East St. Louis Jan. 15, 1967, these regulations were adopted March 30, including the most of the substantive control provisions of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council voting membership staff as a hearing board.

Through study, the Coordinating Council on Jan. 11, 1967, by a vote of 12 to 1 rejected most of the objectionable provisions and recommended a proposed ordinance more technically feasible and economically reasonable.

Data, Goals Unrelated

Many who studied Section VIII found that it offered important and worthwhile engineering data on the levels of pollutants and meteorology in the Quad-City area. It also recommended air control goals and regulations which were quite realistic and which would not take cognizance of the realities of existing control technology, the nature of our area's heavy industrial base, or our state's natural resources.

There would have been irreparable damage to Illinois' coal industry; one sulphur oxide limit was 11 times more restrictive than the most restrictive in the U. S.—Los Angeles.

On Aug. 10, 1966, the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council accepted responsibility for making recommendations on interstate Section VIII. The state's air quality was well attended. Statements were received from industry, public health agencies, citizen groups and federal officials. The Coordinating Council voting membership staff as a hearing board.

Through study, the Coordinating Council on Jan. 11, 1967, by a vote of 12 to 1 rejected most of the objectionable provisions and recommended a proposed ordinance more technically feasible and economically reasonable.

ARMY UNIT LOCATIONS

To the Editor:

Did it occur to you that listing names and addresses of our army units could cause possible harm? Our Army goes to great lengths to determine APO numbers in order that they may contact the location of units. These addresses may fall into the wrong hands. The risk outweighs the gifts the servicemen may receive. Even though it is too late to prevent this from happening, it is thought-provoking.

Where Highway Slaughter Begins

(The News and Farmer and Herald Weekly, Louisville, Ga.)

Having gotten into the business of auto safety, the federal government is grimly pursuing it to the finish.

If auto-makers thought the standards already imposed on them covered the field, they'd doubtless be dismayed to find that Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd has 47 new safety features in mind, 10 of them to be installed in the 1968 models.

Some of the others merely build on existing standards, some are to become effective at unspecified future dates.

Still others—such as governors, limit the speed of autos, trucks, buses and motorcycles—are only in the speculative stage.

There is no doubt that by the time all the safety devices are functioning in nearly all of the cars on the road—which means six or eight years from now—the vehicles which crowd our streets and highways will be a lot safer.

But the biggest factor of all—the human beings inside the vehicles, particularly the drivers—still remains to be dealt with.

Because, so far at least, this element has to be controlled by the 50 various states, and especially because adult drivers and auto passengers have to be reckoned with at the polls, it's going to be quite some time before there is a marked reduction in the death tolls and accidents.

CONCERNED TEENAGER (Editor's note: Unit locations are withheld by the U. S. due to the location of units. These addresses may fall into the wrong hands. The risk outweighs the gifts the servicemen may receive. Even though it is too late to prevent this from happening, it is thought-provoking.)

Very often those with hesitations and uncertain reflexes—many of them who are responsible for injury to numerous others forced to take evasive action to avoid them.

To institute the type of tests needed to weed dangerous drivers off the roads or possibly confine them to certain little areas on the road—highways—is beyond the political courage of most state legislatures. Perhaps if, after all the safety is built into cars as is practicable, the dreaded highway toll would be reduced to a level that would be the kind of legislation that would be needed.

If this does not happen, there is certain to be a clamor for congressional institutions uniform drivers license tests.

Should this occur, it will not be a case of greedy Washington state legislators, but of states defaulting in their responsibilities.

Invest Without Undue Tax Worry

By THOMAS E. O'HARA, Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs

Q—Can you give me some advice on how I can buy or sell property which would involve the least amount of taxes, particularly income, to the investor?

A—These questions are out to an attorney or an accountant of my field. I suggest you talk to someone who specializes in tax matters. However, I would say from my experience that it is not wise to make tax saving your prime objective in any investment program.

Q—Much emphasis on tax savings can cloud your judgment as to the quality of the investment in which you are investing.

A—The object of investing also have accomplished this, even though you don't enjoy it.

One man told me a story of how he let fear of taxes color his thinking to the point where he actually lost money.

Overpriced Stock
He owned some RCA stock which he had held many years and he showed a substantial profit. All his studies indicated to him that the stock was overpriced a year ago when he sold it at 62 and that he should sell. However, he looked only at the tax he would have to pay if he sold the stock and decided to hold onto it.

Let the stock went down considerably. He could have paid his taxes and bought quite a bit more of the stock back at the price he originally owned it at levels it later reached.

Q—In January, 1962, we invested $2500 in a mutual fund and have since put $100 to $150 into it each month. Considering gross earnings and commissions, do you think we could do better with another mutual fund?

Diversification Advised
A—I have always felt that diversification was a good principle to follow in investing, and I would be inclined either to put the $150 a month into another fund or to buy directly into the equity of one of our major corporations.

This is not to say you should sell the mutual shares you now own. You should already have your commission for them, and would pay a second sizable commission if you switched to another fund. Besides, the one you bought has a respectable record, even though many others may have done somewhat better.

If you would like to compare with an eye toward investing in a second fund in addition to the one you already have, your public library or your broker can probably supply you with a copy of Arthur Wiesenberger's book, "Investment Companies," which analyzes the performance of all major mutual funds.

Have you a question about investing? Mr. O'Hara, editor of the monthly magazine "Better Investing," is one of the nation's recognized authorities, will answer as many as possible in this column or by personal mail. Correspondents will receive a free copy of "Better Investing," a free trial copy of "O'Hara's National Association of Investment Clubs, Dept. S, Box 1066, Detroit, Mich. 48231.

Declarations of War Recalled

(U. S. Department of State)

I wish to call for a copy of two documents, the German and Japanese declarations of war on the United States during the Second World War.

I have received information from the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marines in full.

All I need to start working on my records of world war II are these two documents.

I am outlining the war for further reference, and have a desk at my home filled with information.

The more I read about Americans fighting for their country, the more I get to hate those so-called peace marchers who are just trying to get attention.

B. G. P.

Dear Mr. P.:
The German declaration of war was handed to the American Charge d'Affaires in Berlin by the German Minister for Foreign Affairs on Dec. 11, 1941.

On the same day an informal translation of the document was delivered to the Department of State by a member of the staff of the German Embassy in Washington. A copy of this letter text is enclosed.

The Japanese formally declared war on the United States in a note delivered to Ambassador Joseph C. Grew at the American Embassy in Tokyo on Dec. 8, 1941.

Ambassador Grew then telegraphed the text of the note to the Department of State, which was:

"Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Dec. 8, 1941. Excellency, I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that there has arisen a state of war between Your Excellency's country and Japan beginning today."

"Signed Shigenori Togo, Minister for Foreign Affairs."

Flying the U. N. Flag

As chairman for the observance of U. N. Day, the Department of State has requested that the U. N. flag be flown on that day, together with the United States flag.

A question has been raised as to the propriety of flying these two flags together on the same pole.

Can you give me any advice on the protocol involved?

J. A. G.

Dear Mr. G.:
The restrictions are these (paragraph c, section 175, Chapter 10 of the U. S. Code):
"No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal above, or in a position of superior prominence or honor to, or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or possession thereof."
"Provided, that nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the United States at the Headquarters of the United Nations."

It is very clear that if both flags are flown from the same pole, the United Nations flag shall be placed beneath the flag of the United States.

In the event that the flags are flown on separate poles, then the U. N. flag shall be placed in a position lower than the flag of the United States.

Do you have an inquiry? Send it to: The Diplomatic Protocol Section, PMS, Room 5638, U. S. Department of State, Washington, D. C. 20520.

Wilson-Kemper Nuptials At 1st Presbyterian Church

The wedding of Miss Sandra Kay Kemper, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kemper, 2643 Iowa street, and Seaman Apprentice Keith Wayne Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, 2598 Boyle avenue, took place Saturday evening at First United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Dr. David B. Maxton performed the double-ring ceremony at 6 o'clock before the altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli. The main aisle of the sanctuary was lighted with burning candles in tall standards entwined with smilax and white ribbon.

Mrs. Lois Bilbrey, vocalist, was accompanied at the organ by Kenneth MacClatchey, who played the wedding marches. The songs were "O Promise Me," "Because" and the Lord's Prayer.

A gown of imported Chantilly lace with a scalloped Sabrina neckline was worn by the bride. It was designed with a molded bodice, the necklines adorned with sequins, and long sleeves coming to points at the hands.

A very bouffant skirt was held wide with a hoop and detailed at the sides were cascading tiers of lace ruffles falling to the hemline on the front sides and back, as well as down the cathedral train. A forward headpiece, a bow attached to a lace waterfall embellished with jewels, held securely a melody length veil.

The bridal bouquet, an off-side cascade, was made up of white sweetheart roses, stephanotis and ivy centered with a corsage.

Miss Vicki Wilson, a sister of the bridegroom, maid of honor, and Miss Judy Hamilton, bridesmaid, were dressed alike in moss green transparent velvet gowns. Floor-length, they had bateau necklines and Empire bodices accented with matching satin bows. Long sleeves were cutted with lace and velvet ruffles and detailed at the back of the relaxed sheath skirts were satin bows at the waistlines with floating satin panels to the hemlines. Sleeves were long with cuffs of lace and velvet and both wore matching velvet bow headpieces and brief bouffant veils. They carried line arrangements of variegated ivy and tangerine carnations.

A little flower girl, Laura Chappell, dressed in a lace dress with a green velvet shawl carried a basket of tangerine carnations and wore a halo of ivy leaves and carnations. Rusty Chappell was ring bearer.

Mr. Wilson had David Creemen as best man, and William Engleke, as groomsman. Michael Lewis and William Evans served as ushers.

Mrs. Kemper, the bride's mother, chose a gold brocade dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink brocade dress. Both wore matching accessories and corsages of white orchids and ivy leaves.

A reception was held at the Round Table restaurant in Collinsville after the ceremony. Mrs. Suzanne Yates, dressed like the bridesmaid, was in charge of the guest book.

After a short honeymoon, the destination of which was not announced, the bridegroom, who is in the U. S. Navy, will leave for his post in San Diego where his bride will join him later. Both young people are graduates of Granite City high school and the bride is employed by the Cuna Mutual Insurance Co.

MRS. KEITH WILSON, the former Sandra Kay Kemper, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kemper, 2643 Iowa street, who was married Saturday evening at First United Presbyterian Church.

Music, Slide Program for Club

The Ladies' Coterie was entertained with violin selections by Mrs. G. E. Filcoff and a program of colored slides presented by A. Roy Lynn, when 23 members met Thursday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Filcoff, a Coterie member who performs with the St. Louis Philharmonic Symphony, was accompanied by Mrs. Harold Dorries, a former club member who now resides in Breese, Ill. Selections included, "Romance," by Wieniawski, and "Summertime in Venice," music by Ioni.

Areas of the U. S. with historical significance to the Civil War era were presented in slides shown by Lynn.

Starting at Gettysburg, Coterie members were taken through the battlefields of West Virginia concluding with a tour of McLean House, site of Gen. Lee's surrender of the Army of North Virginia to Gen. Grant in 1865.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Evan J. Griffith, president, who welcomed the guests. Mrs. Fred Werner led the flag pledge.

Mrs. W. R. Huff gave the Club Collect, and piano accompaniment for the Illinois Club Song was provided by Mrs. E. F. Reiske. A poem, "Thanksgiving," taken from the Illinois Federation of Clubwomen's magazine, was read by Mrs. Griffith.

Plans were completed for presentation of ten complete layettes, made by Coterie members, to representatives of the Salvation Army Home for Girls in St. Louis. The gift items will be presented SA officials at the club's Christmas luncheon Thursday, Dec. 7.

The annual party will be a potluck affair at the home of Mrs. Dawson Wade, 3314 Washburn avenue, Mrs. Griffith announced.

Mrs. E. A. Karandjeff concluded the meeting with The Lord's Prayer. Hostess for the social hour was Mrs. T. H. Aufferdeide.

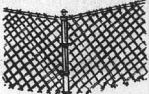

KARANDJEFF FAMILY TO ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Loree L. Slagle of Battle Creek, Mich., and his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Slagle and sons, Brad and Clark, of Morris, Mich., will arrive Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving Day holiday weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Karandjeff, 2807 Cleveland blvd.

The visitors are expected to remain here as the Karandjeffs' house guests for several days. All are former residents of the local community.
